

Sagebrush Winter wine can be consumed all year long. It conjures up thoughts of “blancheur l’hiver”, the first dusting of winter snow. A full-bodied wine with a finish that lasts forever, it is the most versatile wine we could think of making.

Balanced acid on its mineral backbone allows it to pair well with lobster, salmon, fettucine alfredo, veal, game birds and epoisse. Rich, brilliant fruit remind you that summer will soon be here.
